MODRALL SPERLING NAMED A GO-TO LAW FIRM FOR TECHNOLOGY
INDUSTRY BY AMERICAN LAWYER

(Albuquerque, NM, April 12, 2008)- Modrall Sperling has been selected as a "Go-To Law Firm for Leading Technology Companies" by American Lawyer Media for 2008. In-House Law Departments at the Leading Technology Companies, published by ALM, includes the short list of elite U.S. firms that represent the top technology companies. 2008 marks the first edition of this publication.

General Counsel at technology companies were asked to identify the firms that they consider to be the best at providing legal services to the industry, in categories such as litigation, corporate transactions, intellectual property, and labor & employment. American Lawyer Media staff added to this with research of its own, to come up with the final list of honored firms.

Modrall Sperling was chosen for the work done on behalf of the following clients, and because of the firm's track record and legal expertise with regard to Litigation-related services for the following technology companies: Fujitsu Ltd., Intel Corp., and Micron Technology Inc.

Modrall Sperling responds to the needs of national, regional and local businesses and individuals with legal advice, counsel and representation in many areas of the law. Our goal is to provide the best legal services available to our clients, while maintaining a rewarding and challenging practice. To achieve this goal, we strive to provide: (1) the highest quality, cost effective legal services; (2) a broad depth of knowledge, skill and experience; (3) impeccable integrity; and (4) the perspective offered by trusted advisors.
